7. Project Status:

Mr. [REDACTED]
Beach installation and he has a few problems, however, none that will not be readily solved once he talks to the Agency Security people. This meeting represented the first real exchange of ideas and concepts we have had with the programming people. ACP-127 (c) was discussed in some detail along with our operational requirements. This resulted in [REDACTED] proposing to prepare a system configuration specification in the next 30 days which will spell out exactly how they intend to meet each line item in our specifications. Training and personnel were also covered in some detail (see attached computer courses and job descriptions). Training for maintenance men should take about 11 weeks starting the 1st of October 1963 at the [REDACTED]
